STABBING IN THE HOUSE OF REFUGE.

Pal Who Told Tales-Victim Likely to Die. Edward Peisel, 17 years old, an inmate of the House of Refuge on Randall's Island, was stabbed in the neck last Tuesday by fifteen-yearold Stewart Alexander, another inmate of the institution, and his condition became so serious yesterday that a Coroner was called and took an ante-mortem statement of the stabbing from him. Last night his recovery was considered almost impossible.

Pelsel's parents live at 327 East Sixty-sixth

Peisel's parents live at 327 East Sixty-sixth street and Stewart's at 419 East Twenty-eighth street. Both boys were committed to the institution sixteen months ago on charges of disorderly conduct. Peisel has been a model boy since he has been on the island. Young Stewart, who is serving his second term, has been just the reverse. Twice he has unsuccessfully attempted to escape from the island. Last Tuesday one of the guards fell asleep on the second floor. Young Stewart, who is an inveterate cigarette smoker, knew that the guard had a package of cigarettes in his pocket, and awaiting his chance he stole the cigarettes from the sleeping guard. Peisel came along just as Stewart was putting the package in his pocket and threatened to tell:

"Do, an' yer can bet I'll get even wid yer, said Stewart.

"Do, an' yer can bet I'll get even wid yer," said Stewart.

Peisel did tell. The cigarettes were found in the young thief's pockets, and he was sent to work with the yard squad. A few hours later he got hold of August Langwasser, an apprentice in the shee shop, and by threatening him forced the boy, who is younger than Stewart, to bring him a shoe knife. Stewart put the knife in his pocket and went about his duties till he mat Peisel again. He greeted the boy pleasantly and pulling out the knife asked Peisel to sharpen it on his shoe. The boy did so and Stewart, after throwing the youngster off his guard by calling his attention to an imaginary bug on his shoulder, burled the knife blade in the left side of his neck.

"Yer will switch on me, will yer?" said he. Peisel went to the hospital, stopping the flow of blood with a handkerchief, and there collapsed. Stewart was found hiding behind a tree near the laundry and was placed under arrest. Yesterday he was taken to the Harlem police court and held without ball to await the result of Peisel's injuries.

The boys in the House of Refuge, the officials say, have lived in terror of Stewart.

MEDFORD, Wis., Sept. 6.—The woman drowned in New York is believed to be Minna Bunte, the daughter of Mrs. Amanda Bunte, who lives on a farm near here. She had been employed in Chicago as a servant for ten years past and returned there two weeks ago after a short visit to her mother here. Last week she sent home a $200 Government bond and draft for $60. Her relatives have sent for the body.

THE GREEN CORN DANCE. SENECA INDIANS OBSERVE THEIR ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

Not Unlike the Yankee Thruksgiving-It Begins fo-day and Continues Three Days

-Thanks Offered for Everything in Nature. With Special Reference to the Harvest LAWTON STATION, N. Y., Sept. 6.-The Seneca Indians on the Cattaraugus Reservation to-morrow begin the celebration of their Green zenship, which is hanging over these people, a good deal of excitement prevails among the unusually large number of Indians who are congregated here. There are among them several chiefs from adjoining reservaof their ancient festivals.

The Green Corn dance will continue for three days, the first being devoted exclusively to the Great Feather dance-the thanks dance to the Great Spirit so thoroughly regious that no other festive or social dance permitted during the day of its celebration. At the intervals of rest of the Great Feather dance thanks are offered for everything in dance thanks are offered for everything in nature. First, for the guardian spirits of the corn—three sisters, whose aid is invoked by young maidens who walk the fields at the midnight before the planting scattering grains of corn as an offering to those three mystic guardians. Should the harvest be plenuiful these sisters have listened and been generous; but if it is a failure and the maize is blasted this band of maidens are blamed and can never serve again.

At each of the dance intervals the harvest this band of maidens are blamed and can never serve again.

At each of the dance intervals the harvest grains, fruits and everything on earth that has been bestowed for the benefit of man, including the sun, moon and stars, are separately thanked with a song and a dance from sunrise until noon, when arrows are shot at the sun as token of gratitude to the Great Spirit for his gift of light.

The second day—the dream or naming day—candidates for a second or third name are given their titles; dreams, which are an essentially important feature of Indian prophecy, are interpreted by the seers and gifts toward the feast are laid before the people.

The third and last day is the grand gala day, including all the feative dances, speechmaking and Indian games, and at sunset the division of the feast and the farewell dance.

It is at this feast that corn is cooked in all the old-time ways and the celebrated wedding cake is distributed to those who have been married within the past year. This cake is made of the green corn, scraped down from the ear, wrapped in three layers of the busks, bound with strips of elm bark and baked in the ashes. At this time also corn, separated from all others, is chosen for the parched corn powder to be laid aside for the runners or an case of famine. A small portion of this corn powder will sustain life for a long time. The Great Spirit is also asked to bless a certain amount of the various kinds of "consecrated" corn which is put aside for the next year's planting. As this is a national gift each family must have a few grains as a dedication toward the next planting time.

The green corn dance, observed by nearly all the North American Indians, is one of the earliest of the New York State Indian rites. It is a religious law that at this season the Great Spirit must be thanked openly for all his gifts. Each rite must be observed and an omission of the most minute ritual would be "bad luck" to the harvest.

This festival, in its primitive idea, is not un-like the Thanksgivings of the white people.

POPULATIONS OF THE CITIES.

Trenton Shows an Increase of 15.849-Lin-

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.-The population of Trenton, N. J., was announced by the Census Bureau to-day as 73,307, an increase of 15,849 or 27.58 per cent. since 1890. 113.24 per cent.

Lincoln, Neb , Sept.6.—Politics has nothing to do with the apparent decrease in the city's population since 1890. The census of ten years ago was deliberately stuffed in furtherance of real estate schemes and because of rivalry of Western boom cities. The enrollments show an increase of 25 per cent. over 1890 and the Post Office business 40 per cent. Citizens generally admit the stuffing of 1890.

MURDERED HIS TORMENTOR.

Man With Whiskers Stabbed Twins Who Tried to Tweak His Beard-One Dead. For a long time the children of Rosebank, Staten Island, have been in the habit of teasing William Fitzpatrick, one of the town characters who was believed to be of unsound mind. Because he never shaved his beard they called him "Fitz, the Dog-faced Man." They hooted at him every time he appeared in the streets. Richard Gerden, 21 years old, who was in the employ of a Brooklyn baker, was in the habit of delivering bread to the grocers of Staten Island on Thursdays, and yesterday when he went over his route he had his twin brother went over his route he had his twin brother Louis with him. They stopped the wagon in front of Hemmes's grocery store on New York avenue to deliver bread about 10:30 o'clock in the morning, and when Richard climbed downfrom the wagon seat he called his brother's attention to Fitzpatrick, saying, "Loan Whiskers a nickel for a shave."

ers a nickel for a shave."

The haif-witted man stopped and scowled. Then Gerden approached him and made an attempt to pull his whiskers, at the same time making a noise like a sheep. Fitzpatrick drew a penknife from his pocket and told kichard that he would kill him if he did not keep away. Richard attempted to get hold of the knife and Fitzpatrick plunged it into Gerden's left breast. Gerden's brother, Louis, jumped from the wagon and went to Richard's assistance. Fitzpatrick stabbed him in the right side and then ran away.

Fitzpatrick stabbed him in the right side and then ran away.
Richard Gerden staggered along the street and asked a passerby to direct him to the officer of a physician. He was directed to the home of Dr. George Mord, the Coroners' physician. He fell in a faint before he reached there. Two men carried him into the Coroners' office, a short distance away, and he died there before the arrival of a physician.

Louis Gerden ran after Fitzpatrick and fell exhausted from the loss of blood. He was assisted to the home of Dr. Mord and there his wound was dressed by Dr. Mord and Coroners' Physician Whitman.

Fitzpatrick was arrested later in the day by Policeman Cunningham. He was arraigned active Mostertatic Fooker at Structor.

Fitzpatrick was arrested later in the day by Policeman Cunningham. He was arraigned before acting Magistrate Forker at Stapleton and held on a charge of murder.

Fitzpatrick is a son of Policeman James Fitzpatrick who is doing duty in the Eightieth precinct and has been a Staten Island policeman for over thirty years. Richard Gerden, the dead man, was employed by F. W. Stedderfedt of Ridgewood Heights, Brooklyn. He was engaged to be married to the daughter of his employer and the wedding was to have occurred next week.

BYNUM DECLARES FOR M'KINLEY

Financial Opestion and on Expansion. WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 .- Former Representative William F. Bynum of Indiana, who, in the last Presidential campaign, was at the head of the Gold Democratic movement, today announced his intention of supporting McKinley and Roosevelt, for the reason that the Republican is nearer right on the important questions to be settled by the coming election and that those questions are too grave to be taken passively.
Mr. Bynum is in accord with the Republican platform, not only on the financial question but also with regard to national expansion. He but also with regard to hatohat expansion. He regards imperialism as a chimera.

As to the money question Mr. Bynum said his opinions in 1896 were very decided at d subsequent events had only strengthened them. He had predicted in a speechin Madison Square Garden that with the maintenance of the gold standard and an improvement in the country's banking facilities New York would at he distant time become the world's money to distant time become the world's money centre, but he did not then have the least idea that before another Presidential election was held European countries would be obtaining loans from American bankers upon better terms loans from American bankers upon better terms than were obtainable elsewhere.

"The financial improvement in the condition of the people and the country," he continued. "is without a parallel, and how any one who opposed Mr. Bryan four years ago can support him now is difficult for me to comprehend. While the legislatin of the last Congress was a step in the right direction, the maintenance of a gold standard, so long as we have outstanding near six hundred millions of silver dollars of full legal tender, with no provision for their exchange or redemption, will still depend upon the policy of the Administration. An Administration that would force silver upon unwilling creditors would soon affect public confidence, and that, after all, is the foundation of prosperity." prosperity."
As to the cry of imperialism, Mr. Bynum

OUTBREAK AT BOHOL WAS TRIPLING.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 .- A despatch received at the War Department last night from Gen. MacArthur telling of the outbreak in Bohol minimizes the importance of the affair and shows that the attacking force, numbering 120 bolo men, were almost annihilated by the small American detachment of only twentyseven men. Gen. MacArthur says: "Movement on interior now in progress."

"Movement on interior now in progress."

This means that active military operations for the suppression of the ladrone bands has begun. The plan to be followed by Gen. MacArthur is to send large scouting parties in all directions through the interior of Luzon, for the purpose of breaking up these bands. As far as possible, cavalry will be used for this work, and it is probable that some of the infantry regiments will be mounted. Gen. MacArthur's despatch is as follows:

"Details outbreak Bohol develop. Pedro Samson, commandante police, left Tarbilaren ostensibly inspect police various towns. This he did until heard from in Carmen with followers threatening attack garrison at Ubay. Two detachments ordered Carmen found town peaceful. No trace of insurrection. Detachment twenty-seven men under First Lieut Levack, Aug. 31, were attacked near Carmen by 120 bolo men. Latter nearly annihilated; over 100 killed. Our loss as previously reported.
